Membership Benefits

As a registered member of PMA, you will enjoy a wide range of advantages and opportunities, which include:

Networking Opportunities:

Throughout the year, PMA provides various opportunities for members to enhance professional relationships and keep abreast of industry activities and trends

Membership Directory:

Exclusively available for PMA members, this directory will list up-to-date contact details of all our members. The directory will also contain information about other global professional organizations such as Chambers of Commerce and other ADR institutes and will be distributed to international institutions as well as fellow members. This directory will be available in both print and electronic form.

Membership Certificate:

Members will be issued with a globally recognized membership certificate upon being accepted as members with PMA. Certificates are awarded at the Annual Members Gala

Continuous Professional Development:

PMA offers exclusive educational workshops and professional development courses to its members. Workshops are conducted by leading arbitrators and experts on contemporary issues in international arbitration. Members seeking to gain new skills or simply refresh previously acquired arbitration skills will benefit from top-quality professional development courses offered in collaboration with renowned institutions in both English and Arabic. Priority registration for these courses and workshops is given to PMA members.
